... some text above.

4.1   Example of a Section Heading

The heading is set in a normal-sized italic and the separation from the preceding text is exactly one baseline. The separation from the text following is one-half baseline and this text is not indented.